One of Our Warships Gets Between Russian and Japanese.

Steam Up and Gun Sights Adjusted on the Shanghai Squadron--Reports Confirmed.

RESULT OF DEVELOPMENTS UNCERTAIN

Shanghai, August 22.—The American vessels here have a full head of steam up, and the gun sights have been placed in position.

Admiral Stirling in command of the American squadron, is determined not to let the Japanese vessels molest the Russian cruiser Askold, and the torpedo boat destroyed Groszovoi, which have been ordered by the Taitai to leave Port Stirling. The American vessels have also offered to escort the Russian vessels beyond the three mile limit.

THE REPORTS CONFIRMED.

Washington, August 22.—A long dispatch was received at the state department this morning from Consul General Goodnow, at Shanghai, confirming the press dispatches from that port relative to threatening an entrance into the harbor by Japan's torpedo boat destroyer followed by the American torpedo boat destroyer Chauncey.

The department officials decline to state whether there were references in the dispatch to the action of the Chauncey in taking up a position between the Russian and Japanese vessels, but shortly after the receipt of the dispatch Acting Secretary Adce and Acting Secretary Navy Darling went into a conference on the subject therein presented.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

Shanghai, August 22.—Shanghai was thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday afternoon by the arrival of a Japanese torpedo boat, which was sighted coming in from the south at half past 4 o'clock. She started up the river for Shanghai. The United States torpedo boat destroyer Chauncey slipped her cable and followed the Japanese destroyer. The Japanese boat was cleared for action. She anchored off the Cosmopolitan dock where the Russian cruiser Askold is undergoing repairs. The Chauncey came to anchor near the dock and the Japanese destroyer.

The Taitai has notified American Consul Goodnow, who is dean of the consular body, that China can not protect the foreign settlements. He contends that Russia ignores the orders issued by China, and that China has not the means of making her obey them.

The Askold has docked adjacent to the warehouses here of the Standard Oil Company, which are valued at over $1,000,000. The Standard Oil Company has demanded protection for its property from Consul Goodnow.

The dock where the Askold lies is owned by British interests. On one side of this dock is German and Dutch property, and on the other side American property.

On the other side eight American, two German and four French warships are anchored.

Rear Admiral Stirling, commanding the United States Asiatic fleet, is at Shanghai with his flagship, the battleship Wisconsin, the battleship Oregon and the monitor Monadnock. The gunboat Villalobos and the torpedo boats Bainbridge, Berry, Chauncey, Dale and Decatur at Shanghai.

ENGLAND SURPRISED.

London, August 22.—The intervention of the American squadron at Shanghai, in the Japanese operations against the Russian cruiser Askold created considerable surprise in official and diplomatic circles here. The Japanese legation was at first inclined to believe that the report that the United States torpedo boat destroyer Chauncey steamed into a position between the Japanese torpedo boat and the Russian cruiser was a "Shanghai fake," as it had understood that the American government would not object to offensive action against Russian warships in case of their failure to observe Chinese neutrality.

The official of the legation said: "If the report is not untrue, the American officer must have had good reason for his action, such as the protection of the American interests which would have been endangered by flying shells."

"Whatever reason actuated the American commander, if he really did as is reported, it is certain that no complications will follow."

In the opinion of the British officials, if the Russian ships fail to dismantle they must take the consequences. At the same time international interests cannot be permitted to suffer the result of misdirected fire in case of a battle, and it is said that the British consul general probably will be instructed to support the American consul general in urgent representation to the Taitai that he shall take measures to compel respect for China's neutrality.

A MORE DEFINITE STATEMENT.

Washington, August 2.—It can be stated on high authority that the United States will not permit a violation of the neutrality of the Port of Shanghai, endangering the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners by an attack from the Japanese upon two Russian warships within the confines of the harbor. Moreover, Admiral Stirling may be expected to see the Russians either dismantle or leave the harbor within a reasonable time. A continuation of the present tense situation cannot long be permitted in the interest of the peace of the world.

TWELVE KILLED IN SWEEPING GALE

Twin Cities Visited by Destructive Tornado.

The Property Loss Will Reach Three Million—Two Theaters Were Wrecked.

MANGLED BODIES FOUND

St. Paul, Aug. 22.—The death and destruction from Saturday's cyclone, summed up today, are as follows: Killed, St. Paul, 3; Minneapolis, 2; St. Louis Park, 3; Waconia, 4; Glencoe, 4.

Property loss, Minneapolis, a million and a half; St. Paul, a million and the outside districts, half a million.

It is thought the death and loss will be increased when the isolated places are heard from.

The screaming gale tore down the valley of the Mississippi about 9 o'clock at night from a point somewhere near the confluence of the Minnesota and Mississippi Rivers, near Port Snelling. At about that point the fury of the elements seemingly divided, and with a roar descended on the Twin Cities and their environs.

Both the Tivoli Concert Hall and Empire Theater here were fairly crowded with men, watching the performance. Both theaters stood on the edge of the bluff overlooking the river, with the sides of the building open, and were wrecked. The full force of the tornado struck them. The building began to sway and rock, and the audiences became panic-stricken. Men and boys rushed over each other for the exits.

The lights went out, and the sheet lightning flashes, one following another with gunfire rapidity, illuminated a scene of pandemonium, which was intensified by the crash of glass and the tearing of timbers as the frame structure gave way before the tornado.

Sections of the roof were blown through the air and landed east in Third street, a block distant.

Underneath the debris of the Tivoli, when the storm had passed, mangled bodies were found.

THE PACKERS

Chicago, August 22.—Figures given out by the packers today present a claim that they are doing more than 80 per cent. of the volume of business done a year ago. The packers admit that five hundred men left the yards Saturday and did not return Monday. They claim, however, that their places have been filled.

THE REBELS SCORE AN EASY VICTORY

Government Battery in Paraguay Was Defeated.

The Insurgents Set Up a Provisional Government at Villa Delpilar.

DESPAIR AT THE CAPITAL

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 22.—An artillery engagement has been fought between the San Jocomino battery of the Paraguayan Army and a body of revolutionists, in which the latter succeeded in dislodging the guns of the government forces. The losses on either side are not stated.

There has been no bombardment of Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, since last reports.

The insurgents have established a provisional government, with the capital at Villa Delpilar, 112 miles from Asuncion, and have nominated Gen. Ferreira, their leader, for President, and Gonzales Sobero for Vice-President. Four secretaries also have been named.

One of these deputies, Soler, has started for Rio Janeiro and other capitals to endeavor to secure recognition of the revolutionists as belligerents by the various governments. This is taken to indicate that rapid operations by Insurgents have been impeded through the non-bombardment of the capital, owing to the intervention of the diplomatic corps at Asuncion.

Despair is felt in the capital over the failure of negotiations for a settlement of the difficulties.

All imports have been suspended, and articles of prime necessity are hardly obtainable at famine prices.

The arrival of the Argentine gunboat which was dispatched last week for the scene of the trouble has not been reported, and a torpedo boat destroyer has been sent in search of the missing vessel.

IN A WEEK

CHIEF WOODS SAYS THE NEW FIRE STATIONS CAN BE IN OPERATION.

"If the commissioners give me authority and co-operation," Fire Chief Jim Woods stated this morning, "I will have the two new fire stations equipped and in service within a week."

"This morning I received the bills of lading for two new chemical wagons and these will be sufficient to start up on. The ladder trucks do not necessarily have to be here before we open the new stations. The sleeping quarters, the entire alarm system and in fact every thing but the men, horses and wagons are ready. When the wagons come they have but to provide the horses which are already 'spotted,' and the men, and inside of a day I will have the departments in operation."

Chief Woods says that the wagons will get here within the next five days and will urge the police commissioners to act at once in appointing men and buying the horses.

AN ARTERY CUT.

Dr. E. R. Earle, resident physician at the local I. C. hospital, was injured at noon while working in the drug room.

He held a large and small bottle and one dropped out of his hand; he tried to catch it and when it struck on the small bottle, burst and cut an artery in the left hand.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

George Patillo, age 27, of Marshall county, and Nina Matthews, of Marshall county, age 28, have been licensed to wed. It will make the first marriage of the groom and second of the bride.

One man was killed and several others were probably fatally injured during an attack by strikers on a train carrying a few nonunion men at Chicago.

Since Austria is not willing to assume the responsibility it is believed that each country will now be required to protect its own Catholics in the Far East.

FAST RUSSIAN NOVIK DESTROYED BY JAPS

Furious Running Fight With Two of the Mikado's Fleet Cruisers.

Put Up a Brilliant Fight But Was Outnumbered--Japs Repulsed at Port Arthur.

DEADLY BOMBARDMENT IS STILL ON

Tokio, Aug. 22.—After a severe engagement with the protected cruisers Chitose and Tsushima, the greyhounds of the Japanese navy, the fleet Russian cruiser Novik has been vanquished. The fight occurred yesterday. After it the Novik, in a sinking condition, was run ashore in Korsakovsk harbor, on the Island of Sakhalin.

The details are not known, but it is evident the Chitose and Tsushima caught up with the Novik and a running fight ensued.

Capt. Sukeichiro Takasashi says he first attacked the Russian cruiser Saturday afternoon, and that on Sunday morning he inflicted heavy damage. The Novik nearly sank, but she was beached to Kopyask. A shell from the Novik struck the Tsushima in a bunker. Temporary repairs, however, rendered the Japanese cruiser seaworthy, and she continued to fight. The Japanese suffered no casualties.

BRAVELY FOUGHT.

Tokio, Aug. 22.—No additional news of the naval engagement between the Novik and the Japanese cruisers Chitose and Tsushima have been received. The fate of the crew of the Novik is not known, but it is thought that they abandoned their vessel and landed at Korsakovsk.

It is generally thought here that the Chitose and Tsushima steamed in close to the Novik and completed the destruction.

The Novik was one of the Russian fleet that steamed out from Port Arthur in the morning of August 10, to force its way through the Japanese lines. She entered the Tsing Tau the night of August 11th, but got away from here the night of August 12th, having remained less than twenty-four hours. She was then erroneously reported to have been sunk forty miles from Tsing Tau.

CAPTURE PIGEON BAY.

Chefu, Aug. 22.—(11 a. m.)—The Japanese have swept the Russians from Pigeon Bay, and captured the northernmost fort of the western line of inner defenses at Port Arthur. The Russian artillery prevents the Japanese occupying the fort on Pigeon Bay.

CONFLICT STILL ON.

Chefu, Aug. 22.—The tremendous conflict which began a few days ago is still in progress at Port Arthur. Chinaman who have just arrived declare that the Japanese have captured an important point on the Itshan Hills, midway between the western sea coast and railway.

JAP BOAT WAS THREATENED.

Shanghai, Aug. 20.—The Japanese torpedo boat which arrived yesterday, caused considerable excitement, left the harbor today with dispatches for the fleet, which is lying off the river. The object of the Japanese boat in entering the harbor and acting so threateningly is not ascertained.

CREWS LOST IN STORM.

Tokio, Aug. 22.—According to advices received a severe storm came up at the time of the sinking of the Russian cruiser, Novik by the Japanese. Cruisers Chitose and Akitsushimi Sunday, which prevented the Japanese from rescuing any of the crew of the Novik.

JAPS WERE REPULSED.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 22.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following dispatch from Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, commander of the military forces at Port Arthur, dated August 16:

"The Japanese made a two-day's attack on our position on the Uglouvia Mountains, near Louisa Bay. All their attacks were repulsed."

"The enemy's losses were very great. The following officers particularly distinguished themselves: Gen. Konratonko, Col. Irmann, Lieut.-Col. Yoshino and Capt. Andreiff."

"This morning a representative of the Japanese army, Maj. Yamakoa, presented himself at our advanced post with a letter, signed by Gen. Nogi and Admiral Togo, demanding the surrender of fortresses. The proposal was, of course, rejected.

"I have the happiness to report that the troops are in excellent condition and that they fight heroically."

WILL RECONSIDER

School Committee to Take up School Book Question.

Has Learned a Number of Things About Exchange of Books.

The committee on examinations and course of study of the board of education will meet tonight and formulate a report to the school board as to whether or not the board will have to use the state adoption books, and if it is decided the board will have to accept the state adoption, the new books will be used this year, the action of the board in adopting the old books to be reconsidered.

It was learned that this year the American Book Company will give exchange prices of 50 per cent. while next year it will not, and if the books have to be changed at all the board desires the change made when the exchange can be had, benefiting the parents who have to buy new books.

The committee will formulate the report tonight and tomorrow night the school board will be called together to act on it. It is tipped that the new books will be adopted.

The Lunatics, aided by errors and a very bad sun field, defeated the Indians at Wallace Park yesterday afternoon in a ten inning contest by a score of 7 to 5. While Gus Bonno, Paducah's star twirler, did equally as good work as in the initial game he pitched Sunday a week ago, he was unable to get away with his game through bad fielding.

In the first inning Bateman waited for four wide ones and Gerard bunted to pitcher who motioned to throw to second but instead threw to first. First Baseman Meyers was "asleep at the switch" and did not take the throw, Gerard making safe. Lally took a chance at three and failed and Bateman was retired while stealing. Potts slugged a clear liner to right center and Gerard scored. Land hit to third and was retired at first.

In the fourth inning the Indians made two more marks. Lally hit to short and was retired at first. Potts slugged another to right center and made first while Land reached the initial sack by an error of the short stop. Powers singled to center and Potts scored. Taylor hit safe for two sacks but Land was caught at home by a throw of the ball from center field. Brahic failed to safely connect and retired the side.

One run was made in the sixth by Lally hitting a hot line drive to left field which Ferrell was unable to get under. The ball bounded to the corner of the fence and by the time it reached the infield, Lally was across the plate, having knocked the first home run inside the park grounds this season.

In the eighth inning the Indians made another run. Lally hit safe for two bags to left field and Potts got to first on an error of Marre who fumbled his grounder. Land hit safe to right field and filled the bases. Hero is where good fielding came in on the part of the Lunatics. Powers hit to Marre and Lally was forced out at the plate. Taylor hit to Marre also and Potts was forced out at the plate. Brahic hit to Brady who fumbled. Land crossing the home plate safe. Bonno hit to Morris who retired him at first.

The Lunatics worked this way—Moore in the sixth walked and Morris hit to Lally who threw to second and caught Moore. Meander hit to center and the sun caused Powers to let the ball hit the ground. Marre went to the bat and a passed ball enabled Morris to score. Marre hit to the infield and Meander scored from third on the throw. Meyers struck out and Brady retired the side with a pop up to Potts.

The eighth inning netted three more runs for the Lunatics. Morris walked and Meander hit to Powers who let the ball drop on account of the sun blinding him. Marre sacrificed to Land and Meyers hit safe to right field, scoring Morris. Brady was retired from short to first and Ketter hit safe to right, scoring Meander. Ferrell went out from short to first, retiring the side.

In the tenth inning two runs were netted by Marre's single to left field. Meyers fanned and also did Brady and with two gone, Bonno settled down with confidence. Ketter hit safe to right but Taylor let it get by him and Marre scored. Ferrell hit to center and Taylor, who had gone to center, Powers going to right, let the ball get past him and Ketter scored. Barlow flew out to Potts and in the last half Paducah failing to score, won the game for the visitors.

AMATEUR GAMES.

Yesterday morning the Eden Hill Stars defeated the Horse Pistols at the Starr farm grounds, by a score of 7 to 4. The game was interesting and well played.

SOME BASE HITS.

Pitcher McGill returned from Louisville yesterday morning.

The Sun several days ago printed a paragraph about the good work of Umpire Zinkins, and how he wanted to resign and the league officers wouldn't let him. The paragraph has been printed all over the league circuit, and credited to first one paper and then the other, until it reappeared at home here yesterday morning in a local paper, credited to a Clarksville paper.

Paducah ought to have yesterday's game. It should have been a shut out. Ed Brahic did well behind the bat, but he has had no professional experience to amount to anything, and could not be expected to hold a pitcher like Bonno. The result was that he let in the first run, and after that it seemed easy for the visitors. Even after the score had been tied, Paducah had three men on base with no one out, and was able to score only one, and that on an error.

It must have tickled Bobby Barlow to see Paducah's center fielder floundering around after those flies.

A fan called the Paducah crowd "hitching posts" yesterday.

"Pity the blind" was a favorite expression in the grand stand yesterday.

The only consolation is that Cairo also lost.

Last night "Big" Taylor was released and will return to Evansville. He is a glass blower and is said to be a better, although his work here did not show it. Taylor did not want to sign regularly and only agreed to help out while Potts was ill. He did so well Manager Ray decided to keep him a few days and probably the remainder of the season, but he failed to make good.

Brahic and Brahic will be the battery for today for Paducah.

Harley will be back in the game Thursday and Freeman probably within another week, his hand showing wonderful improvement.

Eddie Powers is known to be a good man, but it is not clear why he can't get flies that other center fielders seem to hook on to without any trouble.

TO OPEN BIDS

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS
MEETS AT FOUR THIS AFTERNOON.

The board of public works will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the city hall to open bids for constructing the storm water sewerage on Broadway from Fifth to Ninth. There are at present four or five bids filed with the city engineer and maybe others before the hour for opening them. Work will be started on the improvement at once and if the bids opened today are not satisfactory the city itself will do the work.

The board of works will probably be ready to advertise for bids for the new market house by Wednesday night.

This afternoon the bids for the new city hospital will be opened in Mayor Yeiser's office, at the city hall.

MANY HORSES

Have Influenza in a Mild Form
in Paducah Now.

They Catch it at Public Drinking Troughs—Epidemic Likely.

There is an epidemic among Paducah horses of influenza, which threatens to spread. Since Saturday one veterinary has had fifteen cases, three being discovered this morning. He estimated that before the disease is stamped out there will be fully 200 cases among Paducah horses.

"It is mild and not in itself dangerous," remarked Dr. C. G. Warner, the veterinary, this morning, "but complications from it may possibly become serious."

"The spread of the disease is due to allowing horses to drink at public troughs. Those who have horses would not permit it, as the horses that have the disease leave the germs in the troughs and other horses come along and drink them. If people would not allow their horses to drink at any of these public drinking places, the probability is that many cases will be prevented."

Thus far there have been no deaths among the horses, so far as reported from the malady.

FINISHING TOUCHES.

The work of improving the railroad hospital is progressing. The walks are nearly completed and the tiling men have about completed the work of laying tiling on the porch floors. The painters are putting the finishing touches to the windows and interior furnishings which have to be varnished and will be finished in a day or two.

YOUNG'S COURT.

Today is Justice J. S. Young's court day and he called his docket and set cases. No cases were set for today. The docket is large and contains cases of minor importance only.

MISS BUCKNER IS WARMLY PRAISED

Saves a Young Midshipman's Life in Boston Harbor.

Boldly Jumped Overboard and Held
Him up Until Assistance Arrived.

WILDLY CHEERED BY MANY

Miss Blanch Buckner, the talented former Paducah girl who has achieved wonderful success in "The Isle of Spice," a comic opera now playing in New York, figured in a romance a few days ago which has set Boston talking about her.

Miss Buckner's stage work has been phenomenally satisfactory, and while the story of how she rescued a midshipman slightly suggests the press agent's ingenuity, it has been widely published, and is doubtless true. The feat as briefly dispatched to all the papers in the country was:

"Boston, Mass., Aug. 19.—Miss Blanch Buckner, of Louisville is the heroine of the officers and men of the coast defense squadron now in the harbor for her daring rescue of Midshipman Lawton from drowning yesterday. The Misses Buckner, Leigh and Marts and Mrs. Buckner were aboard the United States steamship Hartford's launch, and as the boat approached the port gangway Midshipman Lawton, who was on the mizzenyard, slipped and went over the side. Miss Buckner promptly dove into the bay and reached him in time to keep his head above water until the launch picked them up. When she went over the side on her return ashore the 300 middies and the crew of the Hartford manned the deck and cheered the young woman. Miss Buckner is a niece of Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner."

MANY PEARLS

HAVE BEEN FOUND NEAR BROOKPORT BY MUSSEL
HUNTERS.

Since the mussel fishing at this place started a few weeks ago quite a lot of mussels have been caught and shipped, and several dollars left among our people, says the Brookport Eagle.

Most of the men who opened the industry here left last week for a sight near New Grand Chain, Ill., but some of them still remain and a number of men of our city have taken up the work and are still going ahead with the work.

There has already been about a dozen cars of shells shipped from here and a good lot still on the bank. Some very nice pearls have been found for which the finder received a very fair price.

NEW BANK

ONE WILL BE ORGANIZED IN GOLCONDA, POPE COUN.
TY, ILL.

Tuesday a number of the citizens of Pope and other counties met at Golconda to organize a National bank of which the stock was all subscribed, says the Brookport Eagle. The board of directors elected are: J. F. McCartney, Moses Clannahan, Sim V. Clannahan, W. A. Whitesides, county judge, Swinney, of the Ayer & Lord Tie Company, Jasper Maynor, former superintendent of schools, A. J. Nesselrodt, for the present, Judge Whitesides has been elected president of the bank.

NOT HEARD FROM

Knights of Pythias Were to Have Met Saturday.

Object to Award the Pythian Home to the Successful City.

The Board of Control of the Knights of Pythias was to have held a meeting at Louisville Saturday for the purpose of taking up again the matter of locating the Widows' and Orphans' Home, which was deferred last spring after Paducah had submitted the best bid of those opened.

Nothing has been heard by local knights of the result of the meeting, and it is not known what was done. It is practically certain, however, that the home was not located here, or they would have received some word.

There was no one to represent Paducah. The general opinion here seems to be that things are being fixed up to give Louisville the home, which was the object of postponing it the first time, and is the object, no doubt, if the project has again been deferred.

The following members compose the board that has the matter in charge: President, W. C. Quinby, Dayton, Ky.; vice-president, T. F. Satterwhite, Louisville, Ky.; secretary, John C. Thomas, Henderson; treasurer, R. O. Fitch, Winchester; Ruby Laffoon, Madisonville; L. H. Davis, Hopkinsville; R. P. Eubank, Bowling Green; H. C. Dumont, Covington; Samuel Green, Newport.

Bowling Green, Paducah, Owensboro, Henderson and Lexington are all after the location. The funds accessible for the erection of the home amount to $30,000.

MORE ROOM

THE HOPKINSVILLE ASYLUM
WILL SOON BE ENLARGED.

The work of enlarging the Hopkinsville asylum, which is now filled to overflowing, will be pushed, and in a short time there will soon be room enough for all patients from this section, as well as for the overflow from other sections.

The Hopkinsville New Era says: "Work on the new wing of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane is progressing in a satisfactory manner. When completed it will relieve the congested condition of the several Kentucky institutions for the insane."

Yesterday, the board of commissioners awarded a contract to the Evans Admiral Company for putting in heating and ventilating including two new boilers. This will cost $13,200.

"A contract has also been let for the construction of a new smokestack, which will be built of concrete. The Barnick Construction Company was the successful bidder. The smokestack will cost $3,300."

THE WIRING

ALL THAT REMAINS TO BE DONE ON BLOCK SIGNALS.

Lineman John O'Bryan and other telegraph men of the Illinois Central, went to Clark's river this morning to finish up the block signal at that place.

When this block is finished it will make the fifth which has been rendered ready for use. The finishing touches are being put to the signals this week. The wiring is all that remains to be done and the entire system will undoubtedly be in operation by the first of next month.

THE SCHOOLS

Franklin School Will be Ready for Use in Time.

New Equipment Coming—Garfield
Improvements Nearly Finished

Mr. C. M. Lieb, superintendent of the city public schools, stated this morning that the action of the boy vandals who wrecked the furniture in the Franklin school building, would not keep the school from being opened at the beginning of the regular fall term.

"We have equipment enough coming to replace the wrecked desks and the carpenters are working on the building now. We are glad that the condition of the building was discovered as soon as it was, otherwise we might not have been able to equip it again by the fall term opening."

The improvement to the Garfield school by the addition of another story is progressing nicely and will be finished this week, it is thought. The contractor is rushing his work and if he finishes his job on contract time, the equipment will be installed in plenty of time to enable the use of the entire building.

WAITING ON SAND

Water Company's Filter is Now
About Complete.

Six Car Loads On the Way But Cannot Be Located Yet.

The Paducah Water Company's new $100,000 filter is now complete with the exception of the placing of six car loads of fine sand. This sand is procured in New Jersey, and the last six car loads of the shipment have been on the way for several days, but are lost, and can not be located by the railroad officials.

Supt. Muscoe Burnett of the Water Company, stated today that the sand is expected at any time, and when it arrives and is placed in, the filter will be complete and ready for use. This will be good news to the people of Paducah, who have looked forward to the completion of this improvement with a great deal of pleasure.

Theatrical Notes.

Last night the new stock company gave a creditable show at Wallace park Casino, to the biggest house of the season. The street car company secured this company by a bag guarantee and it is far above the average stock company, having just completed a run in Chicago. The members of the company all favorably impressed the audience, and the patronage will likely increase. Last night only one specialty, a recitation, was programmed, but the specialty artists are with the company and the show will be the best seen here this summer, it is assured.

The changes weekly will be made during the company's run.

Last night's show was free but tonight and all subsequent nights, ten cents will be charged.

For Congress.

Hon. J. O. Speight, of Graves

DAILY THOUGHT.

We all have enemies, and all need friends.

THE WEATHER.

Showers and cooler tonight, with fair weather Tuesday.

For weeks and months Mayor Yeiser was deaf to the appeals that went up from nearly every quarter of the city to clean up the town. When the Board of Public Works asked for special meetings to consider ordinances it wanted passed as soon as possible to facilitate public works, the mayor refused to call the meetings on the plea that it "would cost the city $65 a meeting." Here the other night, however, the mayor after months of indifference and inactivity suddenly called the general council together to elect three members of the board of health. It developed that the three vacancies in the board had existed for many months, as the gentlemen elected had never even qualified. Yet the mayor didn't know it, or if he knew it he didn't care to bring up the matter at some regular board meeting. So he called a special meeting at an expense of $65, and had something done that should have been done months ago just as easily. But, alas! This is only the way of the Yeiser administration. It seems the mayor is always ready and willing to call joint or separate meetings of the boards when he has something up his sleeve. It is said he is now getting ready to dispense with the health officer, who is guilty of less majesty in suing the city for extra services performed.

The general council at Lexington has passed an ordinance requiring the owners of vacant lots to keep the grass trimmed. If the general council in Paducah were to do such a thing, a lot of our old fogies would simply faint. The principle that appears to actuate legislation in Paducah is that everybody has a right to "do as he d—d pleases." To try to force a man to keep the grass cut would be like trying to force him to keep his premises clean, or trying to prevent his running his slop waters into the gutter. What are the gutters for? And what are the open lots for if not to grow weeds?

Mr. W. J. Bryan has remained quiet as long as he could. He has been fidgeting about like some bad little boy trying to keep still, and now he has broken loose. He says in the last Commoner that Mr. Cleveland has endorsed Judge Parker in such a way as to justify Judge Parker in praying to be saved from such friends, and also that Mr. Cleveland's endorsement is prompted principally by a desire to have the campaign vindicate him, Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Bryan also says that Judge Parker's treatment of the tariff is "not as satisfactory as it might be." Judge Parker's treatment of everything, he might have added, seems not to have been as satisfactory as it might have been, except to the Republicans. The best campaign literature they have is Judge Parker's insipid speech of acceptance.

It may be the law, but it seems a little hard that the appropriations for asylums, prisons and other state institutions in Kentucky can be paid without question, while charitable and educational institutions must do without, because of some technical point of law. Public money is intended to be used for the best possible purposes, but it seems that under our law the convicts and insane people are entitled to more consideration than the embryo manhood and womanhood of the state, whose future may depend on the advantages they get now, and who may become good and useful, or bad and injurious citizens, as the care and training now accorded them ultimately determines.

Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, an accidental hero by virtue of America's impetuosity, has the unmitigated egotism to criticize the president of the United States, and blame him for the atrocious burning of negroes in Georgia. There is but one thing to say to Capt. Hobson, and that is what John Sharpe Williams, Democratic leader in the House, said when the hare-brained young man attempted to attract attention to himself by making a speech in the recent Democratic convention. Means that would have promptly stopped a man of intelligence and tact failed, so John Sharpe turned to the embryo statesman and said so everybody around could hear: "Aw, shut up!"

The Courier-Journal seriously doubts the propriety of Judge Parker taking the stump, and thinks he has been badly advised. The Courier-Journal is right. If his speech of acceptance is a fair sample of his speeches, he had better steer shy of the stump if he wants to get any votes at all.

While Eastern Democrats are claiming that their party is pledged to the gold standard, Democrats of Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and other states in the West are planning fusions with the Populists and standing squarely on the money plank of the Kansas City platform.

The Democrats might have been dangerous opponents of the Republicans this year if they had repudiated Bryanism at St. Louis instead of compromising with it.

The temperance people in Mayfield are perhaps no happier than the proprietors of the blind tigers and drug stores, over the result of Saturday's local option contest.

Sight should not be lost of the fact that so far as the Democratic platform is concerned the party stands just where it did in 1896 and in 1900 on the money question.

Democratic managers in estimating the electoral college vote follow the report of the boy who was catching rats. He said: "When I get the one I am after and two more I'll have three."

It is amusing to have the Democratic papers refer to Senator Fairbanks as "a human icicle," considering the frigid silence of Judge Parker.

NO K. I. T. MEETING HELD YESTERDAYA Quorum Failed to Come to Paducah.It Seems Two Factions Want to Run
the League—The Secretary says He's "It" At Present.

HE HAS FRIENDS AND MONEY

There was no meeting of the K. I. T. League officials here yesterday afternoon. President Thompson called a meeting, but only two responded, Mr. Hancock, of Hopkinsville, and Mr. Schullin, of Cairo.

After supper an effort was made to get proxies enough to hold the meeting, but the president lacked one of having enough, and the meeting was declared off. The secretary left early after supper and said if a meeting was held then, after he had been waiting all day, it would be illegal. There has developed considerable feeling between the president and secretary, judging from reports, and it is alleged the former is trying to "roll" the secretary. Secretary Frankbaker is a steady, hustling man, and says he has the money and the "books," and anyone wanting to "roll" him will think he has done something when he gets through.

President Thompson is alleged to have said he intended to run the league the remainder of the season by himself, and that the Henderson meeting dispensed with the secretary, but he denied the statements to Secretary Frankbaker yesterday, according to the latter.

The misunderstanding was settled, however, and the men went back to work today.

A BOOZE BOAT

Fortune in Whiskey Coming Down the Ohio.There are 1600 Barrels Aboard the Modoc En Route to Vicksburg.

The Modoc, a fine new boat built at Jeffersonville, Ind., is on her way down the Ohio en route to Vicksburg, Miss., out of which place she will engage in the passenger and freight business. Her cargo consists largely of Kentucky whiskey, bought by Mr. J. C. Miller, of Vicksburg, one of the biggest wholesale whiskey dealers in the south.

He has purchased 1600 barrels in Kentucky within the past few days, valued at about $75,000, and it is aboard the new boat, which will pass Paducah shortly if she can get over the Sisters bar. It is one of the largest shipments of whiskey on record.

FINE STRUCTURE

DESIGNED AS AN ARMORY BY CAPTAIN B. B. DAVIS, OF PADUCAH.

Captain Brinton B. Davis, of Paducah, judging from the picture extending across the front page in Saturday's Louisville Times, has achieved a masterpiece in the design of the new armory to be built there. The building looks like a big palace and is to cost a quarter of a million dollars. It will be one of the most stupendous pieces of work ever attempted by Captain Davis, and needless to say he will do it in an artistic and satisfactory manner.

The building as designed will seat 10,000 people, and provide every imaginable comfort for the soldiers, with gymnasium and other features. It is also expected to use the building for all big meetings, such as conventions and headquarters for national delegation when they go to Louisville.

Captain Davis and a committee from fiscal court at Louisville leave this week for an extensive tour to inspect armories in the larger cities.

THE MOTHER WINS

CHILD AWARDED TO HER BY JUDGE LIGHTFOOT.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning passed on the writ of habeas corpus taken out by Stella Jones to secure her child from Mrs. Sue Eggleston in whose care the mother had placed it sometime ago.

When the mother called for it, the other refused to surrender it. The mother employed Attorney D. A. Crose and took out a writ of habeas corpus.

Judge Lightfoot heard the evidence and decided the best thing to be done was to send it to the Orphans Home in Louisville, and accordingly wrote to that institution to see if he could secure a place for the child. Receiving no answer, the judge this morning decided the case in favor of the mother and gave her the child.

The Eggleston woman wanted $60 board for the child, which was refused by the mother.

As a result of the Ainsworth Windham feud in Smith county, Miss. W. C. Windham was shot from ambush and killed.

ABILENA

Abilena is natural water. It holds in solution salts dissolved from natural deposits in the earth. It is Nature's cathartic compound—a natural mineral water. Mineral waters are recognized everywhere as the most efficient, as well as the least injurious, cathartics. Abilena is the best mineral water on the American market. It is The American Natural Cathartic. The discovery of Abilena was a simple revelation of nature. For a long time after the first well was dug, the water, being unfit for domestic purposes, was not used at all. Practical tests afterward disclosed its medicinal properties and the report of its virtue was rapidly disseminated. Finally several chemists analyzed the water and the results manifested its great therapeutic value and predestinated its future renown. Sold only by

JUST ONE DAY

FREE FROM THE SLUGGER BROUGHT OUT A FACT.

"During the time I was a coffee drinker" says an Iowa woman, "I was nervous, had spells with my heart, smothering spells, headache, stomach trouble, liver trouble and kidney trouble. I did not know for years what made me have these spells. I would frequently sink away as though my last hour had come."

"For 27 years I suffered thus and used bottles of medicine enough to set up a drug store—capsules and pills and everything I heard of. Spent lots of money but I was sick nearly all the time. Sometimes I was so nervous I could not hold a plate in my hands; and other times I thought I would surely die sitting at the table."

"This went on until about two years ago when one day I did not use any coffee and I noticed I was not so nervous and told my husband about it. He had been telling me that it might be the coffee, but I said: 'No, I have been drinking coffee all my life and it cannot be.' But after this I thought I would try and do without it and drink hot water. I did this for several days but got tired of the hot water and went to drinking coffee and as soon as I began coffee again I was nervous again. This proved that it was the coffee that caused my troubles."

"We had tried Postum but had not made it right and did not like it, but now I decided to give it another trial, so read the directions on the package carefully and made it after these directions and it was simply delicious, so we quit coffee for good and the results are wonderful. Before, I could not sleep but now I go to bed and sleep sound, am not a bit nervous now, but work hard and can walk miles. Nervous headaches are gone, my heart does not bother me any more like it did, and I don't have any of the smothering spells and would you believe it? I am getting fat. We drink Postum now and nothing else and even my husband's headaches have disappeared; we both sleep sound and healthy now and that's a blessing." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SECRET WEDDING

Popular Young People Marry at Paris, Tenn.

Ceremony Performed Over a Week Ago, But Not Made Public Until Today.

The secret marriage of Mr. J. A. Meadows, a popular young bookkeeper for the Jackson Foundry Company to Miss Lillian Garrett, a popular young lady of the North Side, was made public this morning on the return of the couple from St. Louis after attending the fair.

Mr. Meadows and Miss Garrett eloped to Paris, Tenn., Wednesday a week ago, and were married by Justice W. T. Snow. They returned to Paducah, but a few days after left for St. Louis, where they remained until last night.

TO KEEP COOL.

Collector Who Transacted Business Immersed in Water Removed From Office

Paris, August 1.—Through the removal from office of a collector of stamp duties in the department of the war, a new way of keeping cool has come to light and all Paris is laughing over what they think a good joke.

This official, who was appointed in the early summer, found the weather very torrid in his department and he forthwith placed a large wine cask before his desk. This he filled with cold water and, immersed up to his armpits, he transacted the business of his office, receiving all who came to pay their duties.

All went well, the people only regarding it a clever idea, until an inspector happened along and found the collector in his wine cask doing business without any clothes on, and immediately suspended him.

SNAKE FREAK.

Peculiarly Crippled Rattler Is Killed at Bridgeport, Wis.

Bridgeport, Wis., August 16.—Four young men of this city killed a rattlesnake over four feet long in a clump of gooseberries in the yard of Mrs. Higgins recently. A peculiar feature of the incident was that the snake was minus several inches of tail, and as a result could not sound the usual warning of the species.

It is alleged that certain individuals in their anxiety to make the securing of bounties a profitable industry are releasing the snakes after removing the small section containing the rattles. Snakes thus maimed and unable to sound a warning are naturally a much greater menace to life than rattlers possessed of their normal equipment.

RIVER ON FIRE.

Burns Fiercely and Looks Like a Mighty Conflagration.

Muncie, Ind., August 1.—Oil on the surface of White river was set on fire in the center of the city and burned very fiercely for over an hour.

At this point in the river the oil had gathered in a pool that was also clogged with roots and trunks of trees and other debris. Crowds of people ran to the vicinity, as the huge clouds of smoke made it appear as if a vast conflagration was sweeping the city. All the fire companies were in readiness to prevent fire along the banks. The intense heat drove people from their homes along the river banks for squares.

The oil comes from the great oil fields east of Muncie, through the heart of which the river and its tributaries flow.

CREDULOUS PEOPLE

SOME OF THE MANY SILLY THINGS PERSONS READILY BELIEVE.

There is nothing about which people will believe foolish things more readily than coins. Hundreds and thousands of people have read a silly story somewhere about certain dollars entitling the holders to a free trip to the world's fair, and have even gone to the trouble of collecting them and hoarding them by the score expecting in them to find a bonanza. One man is alleged to have gone through this section some months ago buying them up. They kept the editors of the "Questions and Answers" department of the daily papers busy denying the story, until in the course of time those who had the dollars found out that they were only worth a dollar, and spent them as such.

The following from a Louisville paper illustrates another one of the jokes which many in Louisville took seriously:

"Dr. T. H. Baker yesterday received a reply from the superintendent of the government mint at Philadelphia for information as to the value of pennies coined in 1902. Dr. Baker for the past few months has been receiving dozens of letters daily asking if the pennies contained gold and were worth intrinsically eleven cents. Dr. Baker was satisfied that no such mistake had been made by Uncle Sam, but to be prepared to reply he wrote to the mint. In the letter received yesterday it is stated that the idea has grown from a swindler's advertisement offering eleven cents for 1902 pennies. As the victim always sent less than 1902 pennies, the swindler never paid and kept the coins.

"Dr. Baker said that many of his correspondents had informed him that they had collected large numbers of the pennies and were looking for a purchaser."

HERBINE

Renders the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and the over-indulgence in food and drink. Herbine acts quickly, a dose after meals will bring the patient in to a good condition in a few days.

G. L. Caldwell, Agt., M. K. and T. R. R. Chocotah, Ind., Ter, writes, April 1, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

ENGINE TAMER

A NAME THAT STICKS TO A POPULAR I. C. OFFICIAL.

Mr. B. J. Feeney, traveling engineer of the Louisville division of the I. C. was formerly generally selected to "break" engines in when they were received from the locomotive works of just out of the shops after repairs, and when he ran on the road regularly, received the name of "Engine Tamer," which has stuck to him ever since.

Mr. Feeney's name traveled with him the entire length of the division although it originated among his friends here. Drummers would laugh and joke him about it, calling him by that name within the hearing of others who took it up and from one end of the division to the other no employe of the road is more popular than Mr. Feeney, the "Engine Tamer" and as his sobriquet is not offensive he likes it.

Every Throb

Of My Heart Was Plainly Felt, and Sometimes Very Painful.

If your pulse is too strong, and your heart throbs so that you can feel the force of the heart-beat against your chest, your heart is weak and needs attention.

This is usually caused by long continued palpitation, over-work, excessive exercise, heart strain, and the condition indicates serious heart trouble. You should act at once.

The very best thing to do is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a remedy that will strengthen the nerves and muscles of the heart, and restore them to their normal condition.

If you neglect to do this, disastrous consequences will surely follow. You will have smothering spells, pain in the heart, faintness, the valves of the heart will become leaky, and the heart left in a death struggle.

"My heart bothered me so that I could feel every pulsation. I could only sleep on my left side. Doctors told me that I had one-fifth enlargement of the heart. I had all the usual symptoms of heart trouble. I took about 15 or 20 bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and am completely cured. I have had no symptom of heart disease for two years, and am attending to my business affairs, which I could not do before."

NEW YORK SOCIETY WOMAN SETTLED THE TROUBLE.

Newport, August 22.—Men guests at Mrs. Herman Oelrichs' "bal blanc" tomorrow will wear white satin knee breeches, with coats and silk stockings to match. And that in spite of stormy rebellion that has almost given the Four Hundred. A social board of strategy sat on the court dress problem today. It developed that money considerations were behind the men's objections to the regiment, and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish thus declined against what she called sordid meanness.

"If reports are true, and the men refuse to expend a few dollars in return for the magnificent function Mrs. Oelrichs is giving, and if they are too poor to buy the breeches, why, I will buy them for their use." So the ball will go ahead as scheduled. All the young men will wear knickerbockers, on which all the Newport tailors were busy today, but the older men will wear evening clothes. Rhinestone buckles will be a part of the court dress. The women will be in white gowns. Mrs. Oelrichs is spending $25,000 on the affair.

JUDGE PARKER IS TOLD THE SAD TRUTH

Said to Have Had His Eyes Opened by Taggart.

Hasn't a Ghost of a Show Any Way the Thing Is Figured Out By His Managers.

SAID TO BE GREATLY SURPRISED

Washington, August 22.—Judge Parker has heard something which caused him to shiver worse than when he plunged into the cold mountain stream in New England a few days ago. According to a man of prominence, who recently visited Esopus and was in Washington today on his way south, very much discouraged at the outlook presented by the Democratic National managers, Judge Parker has been learning the real truth about the political situation. The cold facts were told him by the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and the information imparted was that the inside estimate of the probable electoral vote gives Judge Parker 208, or 31 short of a majority; that a liberal estimate of further possibilities brings the total up to only 21, still leaving him 8 votes shy.

It is related that Judge Parker was astounded when the national managers presented the cold facts to him in figures and intimated that nothing less than a political revolution could save the ticket without holding out any encouragement as to the probability of a revolution, no signs of which have developed on the horizon. The news Judge Parker received was different from the hot air talks that have been given him by many others who have called on him. Champ Clark is said to have filled the judge's head with an impression that the whole middle west and the far west was aflame with Democratic sentiment; that Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Kansas were good fighting ground; that Nebraska, Colorado and Montana were safely Democratic. When told that the normal chances were not only against him, but that it would be practically a political miracle if he were elected, the "sage of Esopus" could hardly believe his ears.

The 208 votes which the chairman of the national committee is alleged to have promised Judge Parker comprised the solid south, 151; New York, 39; West Virginia, 7; Nevada, 3, and Maryland, 8. There was a possibility of increasing this by the addition of New Jersey, 12; Connecticut, 7, and Rhode Island, 4, making a total of 231, and still leaving eight short. This is said to have been the best estimate the Democratic managers could make for their candidate. It includes New Jersey and Connecticut, which the Republicans consider absolutely safe Republican states, and also New York, which the Republicans do not by any means concede.

The man who brought this information to Washington accounts for the apathy around Democratic National headquarters which has been so apparent as to cause protests from New York papers to the apparent unfavorable prospects, as shown by the national chairman's figures. He said it appeared to him that the attitude of the managers in New York is one of waiting for something to happen. They are keeping the campaign going, but at a halting pace, and are looking for an undeniable undercurrent of Democratic strength which they think is latent in the country and liable to be manifested at any moment.

The most significant feature of the situation, as told by this gentleman, is the elimination by the Democratic managers from the estimate of Indiana and Illinois. This virtually concedes these states to the opposition.

The plan seems to have taken well in the south, and may be a success.

CHAPTER IV.

MEANWHILE Charlie had brought the Bertha Millner up to within hailing distance of the bark and had hove her to. Kitchell ordered Wilbur to return to the schooner and bring over a couple of axes.

"We'll have to knock holes all through the house and break in the skylights and let the gas escape before we can do anything. Take the kid over and give him whisky. Then come along back and bear a hand."

Wilbur had considerable difficulty in getting into the dory from the deck of the plunging derelict with his dazed and almost helpless charge. Even as he slid down the rope into the little boat and helped the girl to follow he was aware of two dull, brownish green shadows moving just beneath the water's surface not ten feet away, and knew that he was being stealthily watched. The Chinamen at the oars of the dory, with that extraordinary absence of curiosity which is the mark of the race, did not glance a second time at the survivor of the Lady Letty's misadventure. To them it was evident she was but a far-mast hand. However, Wilbur examined her with extraordinary interest as she sat in the stern sheets, sullen, half defiant, half bewildered and bereft of speech.

She was not pretty—she was too tall for that—quite as tall as Wilbur himself, and her skeleton was too massive. Her face was red, and the glint of blue ice was in her eyes. Her eyelashes and eyebrows, as well as the almost imperceptible down that edged her cheek when she turned against the light, were blond almost to whiteness. What beauty she had was of the fine, hardy Norse type. Her hands were red and hard, and even beneath the coarse sleeve of the oilskin coat one could infer that the biceps and deltoids were large and powerful. She was coarse fibered, no doubt, mentally as well as physically, but her coarseness, so Wilbur guessed, would prove to be the coarseness of a primitive rather than of a degenerate character.

One thing he saw clearly during the few moments of the dory's trip between bark and schooner—the fact that his charge was a woman must be kept from Captain Kitchell. Wilbur knew his man by now. It could be done. Kitchell and he would take the Lady Letty into the nearest port as soon as possible. The deception would have to be maintained only for a day or two.

He left the girl on board the schooner and returned to the derelict with the axes. He found Kitchell on the house, just returned from a hasty survey of the prize.

"She's a daisy," vociferated the captain as Wilbur came aboard. "I've been havin' a look round. She's brand new. See the date on the capst'n head? Christiana is her hullin' port—built there. But it's her papers I'm after. Then we'll know where we're at. How's the kid?"

"She's all right," answered Wilbur before he could collect his thoughts. But the captain thought he had reference to the Bertha.

"I mean the kid we found in the wheel box. He doesn't count in our salvage. The bark's been abandoned as plain as paint. If I thought he stood in our way," and Kitchell's jaw grew salient, "I'd shut him in the cabin with the old man a spell till he'd copped off. Now, then, son, first thing to do is to chop vents in this yere house."

"Hold up! We can do better than that," said Wilbur, restraining Kitchell's fury of impatience. "Slide the big skylight off. It's loose already."

A couple of the schooner's hands were ordered aboard the Lady Letty and the skylight removed. At first the pour of gas was terrific, but by degrees it abated, and at the end of half an hour Kitchell could keep back no longer.

"Come on!" he cried, catching up an ax. "Rot the difference!" All the plunging instincts of the man were aroused and clamoring. He had become a very wolf within scent of its prey, a veritable hyena nuzzling about its carrion.

"Lord!" he gasped. "To think that everything we see, everything we find, is ours!"

Wilbur himself was not far behind him in eagerness. Somewhere deep down in the heart of every Anglo-Saxon lies the predatory instinct of his viking ancestors, an instinct that a thousand years of respectability and taxpaying have not quite succeeded in eliminating.

A flight of six steps, brass bound and bearing the double L of the bark's monogram, led them down into a sort of vestibule. From the vestibule a door opened directly into the main cabin. They entered.

The cabin was some twenty feet long and unusually spacious. Fresh from his recollection of the grime and reek of the schooner, it struck Wilbur as particularly dainty. It was painted white, with stripes of blue, gold and pea green. On either side three doors, opened off into staterooms and private cabins, and with each roll of the derelict these doors banged like an irregular discharge of revolvers. In the center was the dining table, covered with a red cloth very much awry. On each side of the table were four armchairs screwed to the deck, one somewhat larger at the head. Overhead in swinging racks were glasses and decanters of whisky and some kind of white wine. But for one feature the sight of the Letty's cabin was charming. However, on the floor by the sliding door in the forward bulkhead lay a body, face upward.

The body was that of a middle aged, fine looking man, his head covered with the fur, ear lapped cap that Norwegians affect even in the tropics. The eyes were wide open, the face discolored. In the last gasp of suffocation the set of false teeth had been forced halfway out of his mouth, distorting the countenance with a hideous simian grin. Instantly Kitchell's eye was caught by the glint of the gold in which these teeth were set.

"Here's about $100 to begin with!" he exclaimed, and, picking up the teeth, dropped them into his pocket with a wink at Wilbur. The body of the dead captain was passed up through the skylight and laid out on the deck, and Wilbur and Kitchell turned their attention to what had been his stateroom.

The captain's room was the largest one of the six staterooms opening from the main cabin.

"Here we are!" exclaimed Kitchell as he and Wilbur entered. "The old man's room, and no mistake."

A GREAT HELP

ENGINEERS AND FIREMEN AP-PRECiate COAL WET-
TING HERE.

No employees of the Illinois Central will appreciate the action of the company in putting in water mains and hose for wetting down coal at the coal chute more than the engineers and firemen, who daily have to go to the chute to coal their engines.

The coal in dry weather is very dusty and when it is dropped down into the engine tender, raises a cloud of dust which settles everywhere, on the cab seats and on the panels of the cab, dirtying everything and making it impossible for anyone to keep the least bit clean. The coal dust also flies off the coal on the road unless wet down from the boiler.

RHEUMATISM.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop., Sullivan House, El Reno, O., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c, $1.00. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

At the End Of the Hunt

[Copyright, 1904, by Richard B. Shelton.]
The chase had led them over a new turned field, down a long slope where goldenrod and asters nodded in the September breeze, across an alder lined brook and up the slope on the other side. As they neared the crest of the rise Trenholme put his big black hunter beside Miss Carruthers' roan.

"I imagine we'll turn back here," he called, nodding at a six rail fence just ahead.

"Nonsense!" laughed the girl. "Not for that."

"Look," he said. "Mrs. Calvert and the rest are riding north to find a gate. We'd better follow, I think."

The girl merely tossed her head and, touching the roan with her hunting crop, rode straight for the fence.

"Great Scott!" cried Trenholme.

"Don't try it. You'll!"

Miss Carruthers had reached the fence. He heard her clear voice call

"Up, Dan!" to the roan and saw the horse respond with a beautiful spring.

Up they went, clearing the top rider by the barest margin, but there was soft ground on the other side. As the horse landed, Trenholme saw him suddenly sink to his knees, while Miss Carruthers was thrown over his head into the roan beyond. Trenholme put the black over the fence, and before they had fairly landed he was out of the saddle assisting Miss Carruthers to her feet. His own horse meantime, recovering beautifully from the jump, was thundering across the field after the hunt.

"Are you hurt?" he asked anxiously.

"Not a bit," she said, with a nervous laugh. "Thank you," as he handed her his hat and crop. "This comes of being willful, doesn't it?" And to cover her embarrassment she fell to brushing her skirt.

"You cleared it, anyway," he said.

"If Dan hadn't bent his ankle, it would have been a magnificent jump. You should be proud of it."

She flashed a look of gratitude. "You're very generous," she said. "See! Dan's ankle is hurt. He limps badly."

Trenholme blushed the roan's bridle to the fence.

"Let's sit under the tree over there and rest before we go back," he suggested.

"Oh," said Miss Carruthers contritely. "I've ruined your afternoon."

Trenholme smiled. "On the contrary," he said. "You've made it."

They moved toward the tree.

"You should be in at the death; you always are," said the girl. "I feel I've flouted a brush from you."

"Brushes are of relative value," said he. "Sometimes I'd risk my neck to be in at the finish. Just now I'd risk my neck not to be."

Miss Carruthers flushed. "You're awfully kind to conceal your disappointment that way," she said.

"The disappointment is a very happy one for me," he said. "I'm afraid if I'd known how it would turn out I shouldn't have had the moral courage to tell you not to try the fence."

They reached the oak and seated themselves in the mottled shadow, the girl with her back against the gnarled trunk and Trenholme stretched comfortably on the ground before her.

"Listen!" he said suddenly.

From the distance the cries of the pack came faintly; not the long, reverberating bay of the chase, but the short, staccato barks and yelps in confused chorus—the hubbub that told of the death.

"Got him," said Trenholme laconically.

"I wonder who's the lucky man," said Miss Carruthers.

Trenholme laughed easily. "Well," he said, "taken all in all, I'm convinced that I am."

He looked intently at Miss Carruthers, but at that moment her attention was centered on a bunch of neighboring goldenrod which she was idly fiddling with her ungloved hand. It was some time before she raised her eyes.

"If I thought you'd give me absolution I should be tempted to make a confession," she said.

"I'll give you absolution now," he said. "Therefore let the confession proceed."

"Well," she said, turning to the goldenrod again. "It was simply contrariety that made me try the fence. When I saw it first I was rather faint hearted. I fully intended to follow the search for the gate. Then, when you advised me not to try it, I was determined to take it."

Trenholme's eyes sparkled with amusement, but his voice became suddenly grave.

"And Dan and I are on the hospital list in consequence," he said.

"You?" said the girl in surprise.

"Were you hurt? How selfish of me not to see it! And I've let you stay here all this time. Was it when you took the fence?"

"Just after that," he said slowly. "When I lifted you from the roan. It's a compound fracture of the heart."

He saw her face crimson and her fingers tighten nervously on the hunting crop.

"There's only one remedy for such a case," he said.

The voice that answered him was a wee, small voice.

"If it were mended, would it compensate the loss of the brush?"

When they reached the clubhouse the hunt was back.

"Hello, Tren!" Walters called from the stairway. "How'd you happen to fall off? I got the brush."

"Did you?" said Trenholme quietly. "I did better than that."

RICHARD BARKER SHELTON.

A Vile Disease

Contagious Blood Poison has wrecked more lives and caused more misery and suffering than all other diseases combined. Some are inclined to treat it lightly, but these soon learn that they have to deal with a powerful poison that is slowly but surely breaking down the constitution. Contagious Blood Poison not only mutes out punishment to the one who contracts it, but others may become innocent victims of this vile disease through inheritance.

For years I was troubled with the most malignant type of chronic blood trouble. After trying various other remedies without getting any benefit, I was induced by a friend who was cured of a constitutional blood trouble, to take S. S. S. A few bottles cured me permanently. I also consider S. S. S. the best tonic ever made. While taking it my weight increased and my health improved in every way. S. S. S. WRIGHT, Allegheny City, Pa. 2508 Ferryville Ave.

mercury and potash treatment all signs of infection may disappear, but leave off these minerals and you soon find out the poison is still alive and you are just as bad off as ever. S. S. S. is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys the virus completely without injuring the system. It is a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1,000 for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. S. S. S. not only works the poison out of the blood thoroughly, but restores vigor and strength to all parts of the system.

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00.

What People Say of the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

PADUCAH, Ky., March 5, 1903.
To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I was a sufferer with indigestion for five years and could get no relief until I bought one bottle of Shoffner's Sure Cure, and it helped me so much that I took six bottles and it has cured me sound and well, thanks to the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

If after using one bottle according to directions you are not benefited, your money will be refunded.

Every Lump of Sturgis Coal Is a Chunk of Intense Heat

A high grade bituminous coal.

It's light in weight—yet firm and solid—with lots of body to it, making it a heat producing coal.

It's clean—contains an unusual amount of carbon and oil—it readily ignites. It burns to a white ash—throwing out an intense heat—comparatively no clinkers.

Mayfield Votes Against Saloons
Again.

New Railroad for Hopkins—Christian County Girl Dies From Poison.

MINERS ON A STRIKE

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 22.—District Judge Gordon has enjoined the Nortonville Coal company from using the Union church at that place for a school house. About a year ago the company bought all the land of the town of Nortonville and decided that the place was in need of a school took the church building and established a school. The people of the town raised an objection to this, contending that the church belonged to the christian people of the town of the various denominations and filed an injunction with the above results.

EFFORT A SUCCESS.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Miss
Nell Clark, aged 23, the pretty Christian county girl who swallowed corrosive sublimate last Tuesday because she had been arrested for forgery died at the home of her parents near Crofton.

MANY DOGS KILLED.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 22.—Eighteen dogs found dead on the streets and in yards from button poisoning is the record of one night. Five dogs were found in one yard in South Frankfort. Among them were several valuable dogs, including the large Newfoundland of Deputy Clerk Evans, of the court of appeals. Some of the owners are much incensed at the wholesale poisoning.

NEW RAILROAD IN HOPKINS.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 22.—The Oregon Coal company has already begun active preparations leading to the building of its line of railroad from Central City to its holdings near Earles postoffice, in Muhlenberg county, which is within five miles of this city. Work is expected to commence at once, as the survey has been completed. The promoters of the road have notified the people of Madisonville that they will be here in a few days to make them a proposition to have the road extended to this city and all are enthusiastic over the prospects of having two railroads for Madisonville. This new road will connect and will operate with the Illinois Central at Central City.

BOY WAS NOT MURDERED.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 22.—What is believed to be a clew to the disappearance of the boy, Arthur White,
two weeks ago has been discovered.
A boy about his age has been found to whom White confided his intention of running off and going to Eagles Mills, Ark., where some of his acquaintances had gone to work in a lumber camp. He said he would ride his wheel to Clarksville and sell it to buy a ticket. Rube Wilson, the negro arrested on suspicion, has been released.

PROMINENT MAN DEAD.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 22.—J. S.
Williams, owner of Huffman's Mills in this county died of Bright's disease. He formerly represented Ohio county in the state legislature, coming to this county two years ago. He was fifty-nine years old and leaves a family.

LOCAL OPTION WON.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 22.—The anti-saloon people won in a walk in Saturday's local option election.
The voting was without excitement or disorder, and the temperance people polled 543 votes to 267 for the saloons, a majority of 276. Mayfield first voted out whiskey 33 years ago. After the result was made known Saturday night there was a great demonstration, whistles blowing, bells ringing and a general jollification. The vote by wards was as follows:

First ward, local option, 209; open saloons, 104; second ward, local option, 123; open saloons, 77; third ward, local option, 211; open saloons, 86.

SMALLPOX IN MAYFIELD.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 22.—Four cases of smallpox, have developed at the home of Mr. Jeff Alcock, candidate for sheriff, in the south part of the city. The aged mother of Mr.
Alcock, his two sons and one daughter are the victims. They have had a breaking out for several days, and they thought perhaps it was chicken pox or some skin disease, but Dr.
Fuller was called in Friday and pronounced them cases of smallpox. In the absence of Dr. Dismukes, Jr., the county physician, Dr. Hunt was called. Many in the community have been exposed.
They don't know how the disease was given to the family unless they caught it from a young lady who had been visiting there.

FOR SENATOR

ATTORNEY TOM CRICE MAY RUN TO REPRESENT THIS DISTRICT.

Considerable interest is being taken at present in the elections for next year. Attorney Tom Crice is being urged to make the race for state senator from this district, and while he has not fully decided, he will probably run.

Hon. J. Wheeler Campbell is now
senator from this district but it is understood that he will be a candidate for congress at the election following the one this November.

REWARDING THE FAITHFUL.

Secretary Urey Woodson, of the Democratic national committee, is in a position to reward those friends who stuck to him in his long fight against the machine of this state.
He has the selection of scores of clerks and assistants in the headquarters in New York at good salaries. The opportunity to spend the period of the campaign in the metropolis of the country is a very inviting one, and Mr. Woodson has a way of taking care of his friends. It is announced that C. M. Lewis, of Shelbyville; E. M. Odess, of Lexington, and Dyke Hazelrigg, of Frankfort, have already received appointments, and there are many other places to fill.—
Louisville Herald.

Senator Hoar's physicians say that while he may live for three or four days there is no possible hope for his recovery.
